An Alleged Defrauded Inventor Denied as Injunction. - Laurent Ruel last week applied to Justice Merrick, stiting in chambers, for an injunction to restrain Commissioner of Patents Hon. Martin V. Montgomery from issuing letters patent to Walter M. Brewster for an original invention for the manufacture of felt boots, shoes, and stockings. A temporary restraining order was issued. Ruel claimed to be the original inventor, and charged that his invention was stolen and fraudulently appropriated by James Brandy, and assigned to Brewster, who now claimed it. Justice Marrick yesterday refused an injunction, and dissolved the restraining order. In doing so he said that "this court has no jurisdiction to invade the province of the commissioner of patents before he has reached and definitely made his decision in a patent cause. After such decision an appeal may be taken to this court in bane. But in advance of such definite action the court would not interfere by injunction."

THOMAS HOOLT'S SOLITARY ELOPEMENT.—
Thomas Hoolt, of Piscataway, Md., ared about 20 years, came to this city about a month ago and married Marquerette Gray Warren, a middle agod domestic in a boarding house on Pennsylvania avenue, near Third street. The couple shortly afterward departed for the home of the groom, where they remained for two weeks. Thursday last they returned to this city and stopped at the Farker House. Tommy got boild of Silv belonging to his wife and suddenly departed. The police are now on the lookout for him with little hopes of getting him. Mrs. Hoolt has gone to her mother-in-law's home.

The Capital Chun's Tour.—The Capital Bicycle Club will start on its annual outing on Thursday next. The club will go from here to Baltimore, and there take the steamer D. H. Miller for Boston, stopping at Norfolk and Virginia Beach on Friday. They will remain one day in Boston, thence proceed by wheel to Brockton; then by rail to New Bedford and Martha's Vineyand. Sept. 5 they will go by steamer to Portiand, Me., thence by wheel to Beston via Orchard, Rye and York beaches, Portsmouth and Newburyport, and tour around Cape Ann. From Boston they will go to Springfield with 500 Boston wheelmen, thence to New York via New Haven. At New York they will cress the Brooklyn bridge and take a run down to Coney Island. They will return home kept. 12.

THE VACANCIES ON THE SCHOOL BOARD.—
The commissioners stated yesterday that they had not yet considered the appointments to the vacancies on the board of school trustees. There are three vacancies, and a week or so may clapse before the appointments are made. Nothing could be learned as to any names of those applying for the vacancies or whether the retiring trustees will be reappointed. It is though that the commissioners are determined to give the appointments serious attention, and it is likely that a thorough understanding will be reached among themselves as to the needs of the schools, and the men most suitable for the vacant positions.

CROSS CHARGES OF DEADLY ASSAULT.—
James Gallaguer and James Gray, Both colored, are charged in the police court with assault, with intent to kill each other. Gallaguer, who was lit in the head with an ax by Gray, is lying in a dangerous condition at Providence Hospital. Gray was cut five times with a rasor by Gallagher, and his wounds are painful though not dangerous. He is at Freedman's Hospital.

CENS. GRANT AND SHERITAR.

EDITOR NATIONAL REPUBLICAR: My contribution to the memorial REPUBLICAR, showing Gen. Grant's confidence in Gen. Sheridan, is a portion of an article that I wrote some ten years ago upon the Mexican question of that period, after a conversation with President Grant. The article was submitted to the President at his request, and the interlineations and crasures are in his handwriting, as stated.

tions and erasures are in his handwriting, as stated.

It will be remembered that during President Grant's second term the preposition to station Gen. Sheridan near the Mexican border during the troubles then existing, with a suimble force, and with full authority to deal with the outlaws and raiders whenever they came over the line on their plundering expeditions as be thought best—to pursue them back into Mexican territory at discretion—was very frequently discussed in legislative and executive direles.

I accordingly asked President Grant what he thought of the proposed plan. He replied in his quick but pesitive manner, that nothing better could be devised: "for," said he. "Sheridan is the best general in the world," and went on, as stated in the article referred to, giving the grounds for his opinion, showing that his haverite general had a rare combination of dash and good judgment—being always prepared for action and at the same time guided by sound discretion. Sinceedly yours, EDITOR NATIONAL REPUBLICAN: In reading the Saturday Evening Star I came across the extract taken from the Boston Conview headed 'The Price of Vanity.' I as a young lady employed in one of our city stores, would like to sek the correspondent of that paper how it concerns him whether a lady who prefers supporting berself, rather than being dependent upon some one else, does so by becoming a saleshady, or by working its some-body's kitchen. I suppose he will acknowledge that it requires a trille more education and knowledge to be the former. Should any one prefer the latter, the work does not degrade them; they can elevate it. But he might just as well ask one of our lawyers or doctors, if their profession does not agree with their health, why they do not go cut and work with laborers in the street. One other thinse he speaks of is that roung ladies in stores dress thwdry. Perhaps they do in Boston, but in our city we find that they dress in better taste often than the customers they walt upon, it being natural that, in handling fine goods, they become better judges. As to their living in poorly ventiated houses, and having meager eating, if the merchants in our cities would pay their clerks what they are worth, there would be no necessity for anything of the kind. In conclusion I would say that probably our friend from Boston may have a young lady friend in one of his city stores that would nawer the description he gives, consequently he may judge all by one.

By giving this article space in your paper THE STORE CLUBE'S DEVENSE. scription he gives, consequently he may judge all by one.

Any desired information will be cheerfully furnished by Robert A. Parke, passenger agent, southerstern district, whose office is at the station. The $5 excursion to Cane May and Atlantic City will leave next Friday at 11 a. m., as assual.

EDITOR NATIONAL REPUBLICAN: I am a regular patron of the Washington, Ohio and Western railroad. Monday mornings, when the train reaches our station (East Falls Church), the cars are full. We have to get in because there is no other train. This morning I counted thirty-five passengers who had no seals. The superintendent advertises round trip tickets to and from Washington, but none can be lought at any of the stations to go to Washington and return. On this railroad are some of the most healthy and beautiful suburban localities to be found near Washington, but the expensive rates and insufficient railroad accommodations prevent their being coupled. # GENTLEMEN'S 25 CENT

HALF HOSE!

Read The Palais Royal's Advertisement!

IT HAS A LOT TO SAY, BUT IT'S WORTH READING.

Gentlemen will be pleased with our new stock of English Balbriggan Half Hose. They all have double toes and heels, and many of them have the new style of ribbed tops, which keep them in position without having to use garters. We have every conceivable color, and in stripes we show a variety that the most fastidious could not grumble at. The price is only 25c a pair, which, considering the quality, is remarkably cheap.

Our extra size All-linen Handkerchiefs, with new styles of colored borders, are offered for 21c; many of our competitors offer them as a wonderful bargain at 25c. Bicycling and Traveling Shirts at $1.98 are cheap, when you consider they are all wool, thoroughly shrunk, well made, and perfect fitting. Our "Palais Royal" Dress Shirts at 89c are in every respect equal to custom made. We have 22 different sizes, adapted to all figures; the material and workmanship are the very best. We could sell Shirts for 50c, or even less, but as we don't keep trash, we confine ourselves to the "Palais Royal" Shirt, which is equal in quality to those sold elsewhere for $1.25 and $1.50.

The summer is advancing, so we deem it wise to close out our Summer Scarfs at reduced prices. All 50c Scarfs can now be bought for 25c, and those marked 98c are offered for 68c.

Jean Drawers that are really "tailor-made" are very scarce. Ours have double seams and are cut on the same principle as pants, which insures comfort, fit, and durability. Price, only 46c a pair. We could write of many bargains in Collars, Cuffs, Suspenders,

Night Shirts, Underwear, Umbrellas, Gloves, Rubber Coats, and other things appertaining to Genta' Furnishings, but we guess your patience is as exhausted as our space is. We finish with the request that you will visit

The month of August is considered the duli-est month in the year, but this year we do not propose to let it be so, and shall prevent it by offering intrinsically the best values in Dry Goods ever shown the trade. The misfortunes of trade have compelled us to mark down many very desirable lines of Summer Goods, which, coupled with goods now daily arriving, will stamp our August of-ferings simply incomparable.

Black Surah Silk.

We have opened twe lines of Black Surah Silk which we unhesitatingly proclaim to be intrinsically the best values in Silk Surahs ever offered the people of Washington or elsewhere; and all we sak is an unprojudiced examination, which cannot fall but substantiate the above statement, viz:

23-inch Black French All-silk Surah; would be cheap at 75c. ONLY 60 CENTS PER YARD.

23-inch Black Extra Heavy Twilled All-silk Surah; would be very cheap at $1.00. ONLY 90 CENTS PER YARD.

Considering the popularity of Slik Surah as a Summer Dress Fabric, this is the opportunity of the season.

Men's Wear Reductions.

No, we do not expect you to pay near the end of the reason the same price as asked at the beginning, because the stock must now be closed out or go over—and with us nothing "goes over."

Men's Fine Gause Shirts, excellent quali-ties, long and short sleeves.

Only 50e per yard; worth 621c.

Wash Goods.

No, the senson is not over. We have just received over 5000 yards of different kinds of Wash Dress Materials, which, in consequence of the extraordinarily depressed state of the market, we bought exceedingly low, and, as is our practice, propose to give our customers the benefits of the purchase by naming on them the lowest prices yet reached.

1500 yards of Choice Satines, navy blue, brown, and garnet grounds, with neat, pretty old gold and white figures. These goods have been very scarce, and we venture to my there is no such assortment now in this city.
